

THE CHINOOK ADVANCE

Vol. 21

Chinook, Alberta, Thursday, May 7th 1937

No. 2

Bring In Your

HIDES and FURS

Highest Market Prices

Also Watch and Clock Repairs

Our latest Wallpaper Samples have arrived.
Call in and see them

W. J. Gallagher

1st Door North of Hotel

GROCERIES

3 lb. Macaroni with prem .30c
Oranges med size per doz .35c
Lemons Large .50c
Rhubarb 3 lbs .25c

Aylmer Pork & Beans .13c
Ottoman Tobacco per tin .50c

Rennies Garden Seeds

Fence Staples, Grease & Tractor Oils

Soft Balls and Bats
Turrett Razor Blades

BANNER HARDWARE AND GROCERIES

Call for your 1937 Calendar

We have a fresh stock of
"A" "B" & "C" Batteries

Now is the time to bring in your OVERHAUL JOBS. We will have them ready when you need them in the Spring.

COOLEY BROS.

Chinook, Alta.

Phone 10.

Miscellaneous News

Mr. J. E. Cooley and son, Floyd returned Saturday from Calgary

Mr. C. E. Neff, of Hanna, was a business visitor in Chinook Saturday, spending the night at the farm with his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Turple

Mrs. Leonard Cooley was a Calgary visitor last week, returning Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart, and Marlene, of Brooks, were visitors at Chinook on Saturday.

Mrs. Mortimer was a Calgary visitor last week.

Mrs. M. C. Nicholson was a Calgary visitor at the week end meeting a lady friend whom she had not met since their school days in Ontario.

Mrs. A. V. Youell and little nephew, left for Calgary on Wednesday morning where they will spend a few days.

On Friday, May 21st at Cloverleaf School, the rural schools are holding a Children's Sports Day, to raise funds for the School Fair.

Everyone come. Dance in the evening

The Ladies Card Club Met

The Ladies' Card Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. C. Turple. Mr. Turple won her own prize, Mrs. Lee winning second.

Mrs. Youell will be hostess to the club next week.

Mr. Carl Hodge is in the Hanna Hospital where he is receiving medical treatment.

Mr. Robert MacFarland, of British Columbia, is visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Harold Allen, Heathdall district.

CHANGE IN CANADIAN NATIONAL R.R. TIME TABLE

No. 9 West bound, passenger,
1.27 a. m. except Monday.
No. 10 East bound, passenger,
3.08 a. m. Effective Sunday

GOOD CLEAN RESTAURANT

Fresh Meat-for-sale
Ice Cream, Confectionary, Soft Drinks

Meals at reasonable prices.

MAH BROS.

Master Machanic Overalls in stock

Fresh Evap. Apricots	2 lbs	.39c
Laundry Soap	10 bars	.39c
Salmon -- Tips & Tails	2 tins	.25c
Pure plum Jam	4 lb pail	.42c
Chase & Sanburn Coffee	1 lb tin	.43c
Rhubarb	4 lbs	.27c
Bananas, Celery Lettuce, Cabbage etc.

CHINOOK TRADING CO.

Reduced Fares FOR Coronation Day

Single Fare
and One-Quarter for Round Trip

GOING:
MAY 11 to 2 p.m. MAY 12
RETURNING:
Leave destination not later than midnight, May 13.

SIMILAR LOW FARES FOR
VICTORIA DAY, MAY 24
Information from any Agent
W. 37-239

CANADIAN NATIONAL

The Friendly Circle Held Meeting

The Friendly Circle held the May meeting Thursday afternoon, May 6th, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Pfeiffer. There was a good attendance of members and some visitors. Mrs. Lee acted as Secretary in the absence of Mrs. Youell, the hostess presiding.

It was decided to give a substantial donation to the Red Cross fund. In a "Current Events" contest sponsored by Mrs. Turple, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Todd tied for first place. Miss Kain won the guessing contest. A dainty lunch was served in the dining room of the Hotel.

Mothers' Day Service

Mothers' Day Service combined with the Sunday School will be held in the United Church on Sunday, May 8th at 11.30 a. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee and family motored to Kindersly last Sunday where they visited with relatives.

Mr. Wilfred Hennerson, of Calgary was a Chinook visitor on Friday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Isbister.

Royal Sponsors Gave Portraits

The Canadian Pacific, on land and sea, is proud of its close contact with Their Majesties, King George VI, and Queen Elizabeth, whose portraits grace two of the company's proudest possessions, the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, and the 20,000 ton Atlantic liner Duchess of York. The illustration shows the autographed photograph of Their Majesties presented to the liner which was sponsored by Her Majesty and named for her. A similar portrait was presented to the huge Toronto hostelry.

GYPROC

for YOUR HOME!
Make Improvements and Repairs NOW!

"Why Build to Burn!"

Gypsum, Lime and Alabastine.
Canada, Limited

MONTREAL TORONTO WINNIPEG CALGARY VANCOUVER

"Look for the Green Stripe on the Edge"

GW37

Needless Fatalities

The "drowning" season is at hand.

Once more the time of the year approaches when readers of the newspapers may expect to see reports, under more or less startling headlines, of casualties in water—stories of adults and children who have gone down for the third time, never to leave the water alive.

During the late spring, summer and early fall months, water will take its annual toll of victims in the prairie provinces.

The pity of it is—and yet a consolation, too—that most of these deaths could have been avoided, for practically all drowning accidents can be tabulated within the scope of two categories, and both of them to-day are avoidable, if the necessary precautions are taken.

Some people drown because they cannot swim. Others, who are able to swim, lose their lives in the water because they are physically unable to stand the shock, and develop cramps which tie the muscles and make it impossible for them to help themselves.

The obvious preventive of loss of life in the water by non-swimmers is to learn to swim. There is nothing difficult about that. Swimming is a comparatively easy art to acquire, though, it is true, some are more apt than others and as a result learn more rapidly than others how to keep themselves afloat in the liquid element.

It is not much use forbidding boys and girls to go down to the swimmin' hole to bathe. The lads and lasses cannot be blamed very much for attempting to seek relief from the torrid heat of the July and August sun in the cooling waters of the creek, the slough or the lake, whichever may be handy.

The joys which come from the healthful sports of bathing, swimming and diving should not be subjects of prohibition in a country where the season for such enjoyment is all too short and the opportunities for healthful recreation somewhat limited.

Instead of restriction there should be co-operation and assistance on the part of parents and teachers and every boy and girl should be taught to swim under proper supervision at as early an age as possible. In some of the tropical countries children are able to swim almost as soon as they can walk and equally as expertly. It would be almost impossible for them to drown.

Learning to swim should be part of the school curriculum and once or twice a week during the summer months, after school hours or during the vacation, children should be taught to swim and enjoy the pleasure of bathing, if there is suitable water within reasonable distance. Swimming should be as natural to the prairie child as walking or running.

As for swimmers who perish because they are not in physical condition to stand the shock of cold water, even they can be rendered immune, if recently reported discoveries of medical science are authentic.

A Rochester, Minnesota physician recently announced, as a result of research and experimentation, that he has discovered that many people are hypersensitive to cold and that this hypersensitivity can be cured in a simple and easy manner and without benefit of medical attendance or the use of drugs.

To discover whether one is hypersensitive to cold and therefore in danger of succumbing to shock in the water, all that is necessary is to immerse one hand in ice cold water for a minute or two twice a day for a three week period. If the hand swells under this treatment, it is a danger signal. The experimenter is liable to shock and drowning if he or she ventures into the water, according to this authority.

Fortunately the remedy is as easy and simple as the test. One can be cured by continuance of the hand immersion practice until the swelling disappears. Then, according to the Rochester doctor, the "patient" has become desensitized and may venture into the water without incurring any risk of drowning from cramps.

If there is scientific authority for this discovery, a combination of tuition in the art of swimming and desensitization of all who might be subjected to cramps would cut down the loss of life from drowning to almost zero.

It is true that every year lives are lost because boats and canoes are upset and their occupants tilted into the water, but most, if not all, lives lost as a result of this class of accident are due to the fact that either they are unable to swim or are overcome by the shock of cold water. If the former, the risk would have been avoided by learning to swim and if the latter, by the simple method of desensitization before running the risk of going aboard in any type of capsizable craft.

The risks of drowning under either of the two causes assigned are too great to be ignored and all who embark either on or in the water should be able to carry out their enterprise with confidence that their safety is ensured in advance, because they have taken all the necessary precautions to avoid death for themselves and sorrow for their friends and relatives.

George VI. cannot speak German fluently, despite much family practice when a young man. His French is moderate.

for CUTS & SORES

Apply Minard's freely. It washes out poison and cleanses. Any wound heals quickly after its use.

There's nothing better!

MINARD'S

"KING OF PAIN"

LINIMENT

A Costly Message

Proposal Telegraphed To Movie Star Cost Sender $212.85

The telegraph companies should cultivate the good will of Kay Francis, dark-haired screen beauty. She believes that a recent telegram she received is the longest telegraphed proposal ever sent a Hollywood star. A Detroit admirer, terming himself "well fixed financially," dispatched a fervent 2,500-word telegram, which ran on over 22 telegraph forms. Miss Francis never did find it at one sitting except to find out the man was going to Hollywood for his answer. It cost him $212.85 to get across his romantic ideas.

Speed Has Been Exaggerated

Germany's Rearmament Program Will Take Some Time To Complete

There is no doubt about the magnitude of Germany's rearmament program; but its speed has been exaggerated. So writes Hans W. Baldwin in a Berlin dispatch to the New York Times. After some apparently exhaustive checking up with expert observers, Mr. Baldwin writes: "Despite contrary reports, Germany was not ready last year to fight a major war when her troops marched into the Rhineland; she is not ready to-day and she will not be ready next year. It will be 1933 or 1940 at least, it is believed, before she can hope to complete training that vast reservoir of some 6,500,000 untrained men who had no experience with conscription between Versailles and Hitler. It will be two or three years at least before Germany, although straining every nerve, can pile up the reserve equipment needed for a massive army and can supply sufficient officers to command that army."

But Germany will fight before then, the Times correspondent concedes, if necessity arises to fight. "Every one of her active units is at war strength and in war camouflage, ready instantly," and "she can to-day give any nation a scrap far more vicious than it would enjoy; and she could have done so yesterday."

It is the correspondent's opinion, however, that at the time of Rhineland occupation, Germany would have been beaten, if France "had taken positive measures," and that "Germany would probably lose to-day if France were her only opponent."

The Times' observer, however, does not minimize the prospective effectiveness of Germany's vast rearmament program. Germany has a reservoir of man power "that France does not possess and which Britain, without conscription, cannot utilize," and Germany is constantly drawing untrained men from that reservoir and turning them into soldiers.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

Boy Scouts

Broadened Activities During 1936 Reported At Annual Meeting

Increased membership and broadened activities during 1936 were reported at the annual meeting of the Canadian general council of the Boy Scouts Association.

The governor-general, Lord Tweedsmuir, as chief scout, president, and Sir Edward Beatty, president of the association, and representatives from all parts of Canada were present.

The total membership was reported as $5,948, an increase of 9,345. As in previous years Ontario showed the highest membership, with 31,585. Saskatchewan reported 8,626, Alberta 8,032, Manitoba 7,111, and British Columbia 6,881.

Roses Along Railway Line

Stretch In New York State Sold Mass Of Rambler

The rambler roses which line many miles of New Haven tracks in four States are all taken from a deep cut at Mount Vernon, N.Y. They were planted there in 1909 at a cost of $5,000. Since that time annual cuttings and transplantings have been made so that there are now 57,000 bushes along the line, reports The Mutual Magazine. The 41-mile stretch between New York and South Norwalk is practically a solid mass of these roses. Besides beautifying the right-of-way their roots materially retard soil erosion in the cuts.—New York Times.

In its journey around the sun, the earth travels at the rate of 1,112 miles a minute.

Bones of 2,000 hippopotami, killed by prehistoric hunters, were found in a single cave in Sicily.

There are 1,024,000 persons by the name of Johnson in the United States.

There is only one ship in Ecuador's navy, five in Mexico's and 14 in Peru's.

DO YOU NEED A BUILDER?

WHEN you are miserable and per-laps in need of a good tonic, weight below normal, and you feel tired-out and weak, follow the advice of Mrs. H. M. Rhine of 141

Riverside St., London, Ont. who said: "For a general run-down condition, nothing did more for me than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Mother gave it to me and it certainly did help me. My complexion and color were bad, I lost weight and had lost digestion. After taking a few bottles of the 'Discovery,' my appetite and digestion were much improved and I gained in every way." Buy now! New size, 50c.

All's well with the roll-your-owner who rolls his own with Ogden's Fine Cut. Always fragrant, always cool, the kind of cigarette tobacco that steers you straight down the highway to real enjoyment. Try Ogden's and choose the best papers—"Chanticleer" or "Vogue".

P.S.—Your Pipe Knows Ogden's Cut Plug.

OGDEN'S
FINE CUT

Poetry Competition

Westerners Receive Honorable Mention In Contest Conducted By Montreal Authors' Association

Two Toronto women were announced as first prize winners in the 1937 poetry competition conducted by the Montreal Authors' Association.

Mary I. Woodworth, Toronto, was named winner in the lyric poetry class, for her "April."

The other Toronto winner was Edna Alice Boyd, who led the bird poem division with "Vignette of a Heron."

Honorable mention in lyric poetry was given Joseph Garvey of Larder Lake, Ont., for "The Transient." Among those commended were: Audrey Alexandra Brown, Victoria, for "Serenade," and A. Baxter, of Borden, Sask., for "The Nurse."

The poem class was given to "The Voice," by Beresford Richards, Athabasca, Alta.; "Sea Gull," by Mrs. Melville Chater, Vancouver, and Grace Hewlett, Westbank, B.C.

SELECTED RECIPES

ORANGE DELIGHT

½ cup scalded milk
3 tablespoons Benson's Corn Starch

Few grains salt
½ cup cold milk
1 egg yolk
¼ cup Crown Brand Corn Syrup
½ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon orange rind, grated
1 egg white
2 tablespoons fine fruit sugar

Scald milk in top of double boiler. Mix Benson's Corn Starch and salt with cold milk; add slowly to hot milk, stirring constantly until thick. Cover and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Combine egg yolk and Crown Brand Corn Syrup; stir and add to hot mixture. Continue cooking for three minutes. Add orange juice, lemon juice and grated rind. Stir and remove from heat. Pour slowly over stiffly beaten egg white to which has been added the fine sugar. Pour into mould and chill well before serving.

Both Are Centenarians

Egyptian Census Discloses Mother and Daughter Over 100

The world's oldest living couple, a mother and her daughter, were "discovered" in a village of lower Egypt during the Egyptian census being carried out. The mother, Rifa'ia El-Sayed, is 107 years old, and her daughter, Moucharrafa Hachem, is 107. Even though they are wizened and their skin looks like old parchment, the census official would not believe the ages claimed by the women until the mother began to talk about Napoleon's campaign in Egypt.

The number of sheep and lambs on Canadian farms is approximately 2,628,500.

The heart of a normal adult pumps about one gallon of blood a minute.

Extend Invitation

Rover Scouts Invited To Hold Next International Gathering In Canada

Rover Scouts from all over the world will be invited to hold their next international gathering, or rover moot, in Canada, in the summer of 1939. Announcement was made at the meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian general council of the Boy Scouts' Association. The location of the proposed rover moot camp has not yet been decided.

The invitation will be presented through the international bureau at imperial headquarters of the Boy Scouts' Association, London. It is understood Poland also is making a strong bid for the moot. The last international rover moot was held near Stockholm, Sweden, and was attended by 3,000 rovers from 24 countries. Canada was represented by a rover patrol of seven.

The Cherokees are the only Indians to have literature recorded in an Indian alphabet. Sequoyah, a Cherokee inventor, worked out this alphabet in 1821.

Twenty-one per cent. of the meals eaten by Americans are eaten out of homes.

An Unusual Fatality

Soldier Escaped War Hazards To Be Killed By Bicycleist

An immense crowd of people attended a funeral in London, Eng., to do honor to the memory of an Australian soldier who had been killed in a peculiar manner while in England as a member of the Australian military contingent to the coronation. He was hit by a bicyclist on Birdcage Walk, outside Wellington barracks, where the Australian contingent was quartered.

The simplicity of the accident that took this man's life illustrates the anomalies that are found in the affairs of existence. Gunner Arthur Percy Sullivan, V.C., who was the victim of the mishap, won the Victoria Cross in 1919 when he rescued four comrades from a Russian swamp under heavy fire. After an experience of that kind, the normal conclusion would be that the subject would have a reasonable chance to escape the less spectacular hazards of the streets. But there is nothing certain in that connection and human beings must be prepared for the unexpected at all times.

Because of gravity, a grandfather's clock in Spitzbergen needs a longer pendulum than one at the equator.

Only Firestone Tires are Gum Dipped

ABOUT POUNDS OF PURE RUBBER ARE ADDED TO EVERY PAIRED POUNDS OF COGO FABRIC.

COTTON COGO FABRIC IS IMMERSUED IN LIQUID RUBBER.

STANDARD QUALITY EVERY PAIR OF Tires CONFORMS TO THE HIGHEST GRADE OF SAFETY.

... You Get 58% Longer Flexing Life at No Extra Cost!

Gum-Dipping makes Firestone tires stronger and safer. No other tire has this extra process that eliminates internal friction and heat—the greatest enemy of tire life. All Firestone tires are Gum-Dipped—and your local Firestone Dealer has one for every purpose and purpose. Drive in and let him take care of your needs.

Firestone

Spoiled Bread?

Watch your Yeast!

Royal protects you against home-baking failures

Royal is always full-strength... pure! Each cake sealed in an air-tight wrapper

APPEZING bread must be fine-textured... sweet-flavored—with no hint of sourness or "yeasty" taste.

Your yeast is important. Royal is always dependable... the only dry yeast that comes sealed in air-tight wrappers. It's full-strength... free from impurities.

Seven out of 8 Canadian housewives today depend on Royal when they bake with a dry yeast. They know they can count on good results—even months after they buy Royal. It stays fresh. For 50 years, Royal has been the symbol of highest quality.

Don't take chances with inferior yeasts. Always use Royal! Get a package today.

Send for FREE booklet

To get uniform results in bread baking, it is important to keep the sponge at an even temperature.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

BUY MADE-IN-CANADA GOODS

Standard Brands Ltd., Fraser Ave. & Liberty St., Toronto, Ont.

Please send me the free Royal Yeast Cake Book.

Name _____

Address _____

Town _____ Prov. _____

Would Cut Expenses

If Professor's Idea For Appeasing Hunger Would Work

The next time you are hungry, don't buy a big steak—just chew a match stick.

That is the advice Dr. A. J. Carlson, University of Chicago physiology professor, gave colleagues at a conference in Norman, Oklahoma.

"Chew matches, soda straws or anything handy the next time hunger gnaws and you'll feel better," said Dr. Carlson, an authority on hunger, thirst and appetite mechanisms.

Turkeys, in their natural state, roost in trees.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from any druggist, a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemorrhoid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it secures the highest of relief for the sufferer, an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

THE YELLOW BRIAR

A Story of the Irish on the Canadian Countryside

By PATRICK SLATER

By arrangement with Thomas Allen, Publisher, Toronto.

CHAPTER IV.—Continued

So the morning after, I rode off in William Marshall's wagon on my way to Mono Mills. The team spanked along the Dundas Road west from Toronto, and, turning northward, we travelled slowly over rough roads to Malton on the Sixth line of Chinguacousy. We lodged the night after at a roadside at Fullarton.

Bright and early in the morning we were up and on our way again. William Marshall was big-hearted enough to be kindly in his quiet way to the little urchin riding beside him into a strange world. The flight of the wild pigeons, and the flow of the cold-clad water brooks, were surely explained as the creaking wagon lumbered slowly along. The country gradually became rough and broken. A great hill stretched up suddenly before us; and along its crest small, fleecy clouds passed slowly by, like a flock of sheep newly washed clean.

"Oh! Sir," I cried, in childish dismay, "how will we ever get up that powerful big hill?"

"Just bide a little, lad," the man told me, "and we'll lick that little old hill once we get a hold of him."

And true enough he did gradually melted away, in wondrous wise, to disclose a still greater one to threaten us.

"Oh, Sir!" I exclaimed, clutching his arm, "how will we ever get up that terrible big hill?"

"Patrick," Mr. Marshall told me, "you and I didn't cross the great stormy ocean to be scared by little hills, or ought else. We Irish fellows just go up to things like that and give them a good dig."

The man's conversations were fine for shortening a journey, what with the frolicking thoughts that chased one another through my head.

Early in the afternoon we pulled up at Henderson's blacksmith shop. The anvil was ringing—"clink! clank! clink!" at that far forge at Mono Mills as the smith beat a glowing horseshoe into shape amid a spraying shower of flying sparks. Out on the wind to smart the nostrils, drifted the peat-like smoke of the forge and the pungent smell of a hoof burned in the tilling.

Michael Costigan bestirred himself to reset a spare wagon wheel left in for repairs as our team had passed down. The huge Irishman wrought earnestly over the hot tyre, his tongue sticking out the corner of his mouth in a curious way.

His little son, as freckled as a turkey's egg, was standing by. "It'll no holt, Mike Costigan!" the child cried to his father. "It'll no holt, Mike Costigan!"

"Holt your tongue!" the father shouted back at him. "But if you had a band as tight as that around your body at the belly button you'd be a cheap little lad to feed."

Some one whistled the blacksmith's tune—"Rory O'More."

Then Costigan was treated to the song:

Now who is this grimy-faced man that we hear,
Directing the world as he hammers our gear?
O, the noises he makes would spill any one's ears!
Sure 'tis Michael, the blacksmith at Mono.

Later in the afternoon we drove to the farm where the yellow briar grows. It was Friday, the 24th of September, 1847, a beautiful day, fair and clear after the rains. At the big log house a warm welcome awaited us.

It was a pioneer farm with ten years heavy work behind it in the making. But there were compensations. Whatever else they lacked, the pioneers in the Ontario bush fed like fighting cocks. Not for them were the tom-tit-like meals that cook themselves at home while the motor car is gallivanting round to ladies' meetings in the countryside.

There was, aye, an abundance there for supper that night—of cold pork, hot pig-pie, fried potatoes, green tea, wheaten bread, ginger cookies, hot shortcake and maple molasses; aye, and a jug of milk standing handy on the table.

Mr. Marshall said grace, asking the Lord to bless the food to its intended use, and for what we were about to receive to make us truly thankful. There were eight of us around that kitchen table to be thankful—a young squaller three quarters old in a basswood crib; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall; a hired man and

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two quarts of fluid into your bowels daily. If the bile is not flowing freely, your food will not digest. It just drops in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Hard stools go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks black.

A more honest movement down always gets the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel like a new dog. That's the way to work. Add for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else, too.

his wife, both living in; two other small Marshall children, and young Paddy Slater.

After supper I sat on the wash bench by the side of the back kitchen door. There came still evening on, with the tiny noises of small creatures stirring in the early twilight; and, in between, I could hear the sound of the grass growing.

Little Charlie Marshall sidled up to show me a big wart he prided himself on. Then I helped the hired man fetch water from the well. It was a curious contraption, that well.

A long, stout pole had been tettered on the crutch of an old post, planted some feet back. A bucket and rope were attached at one end, and the other end was well weighted. Letting the bucket down for water hoisted the weighted end of the pole. When the bucket was filled, one just steadied it, and up it came, neat and easy-like, with no strain or slopping.

That night I was sent to bed up a ladder into the loft over the back kitchen.

"Patrick," Mr. Marshall called up, "I wish you a good night. God have you in His keeping."

It was lonely up there for awhile, but I soon discovered my little folk come with me. I could hear the pixies playing about in the walls and every now and again a little fellow went "tick-tick-tick!" like a watch, "tick-tick!" to let me know he was guarding over me. A boy feels all right with friends like that about it.

It was a long day, filled with excitement and diversions. I had need of a stretch, so to speak I went.

One of the fairies pulled my lug in the early morning; but I was slow in grabbing him. When I rubbed my eyes, the windows of the day were opening in the east. All I saw was a fat grey squirrel cooked on a nearby box. By the biggest of his eyes I could tell, however, he had been seeing rare goings-on.

They find out many intimate things about antiquity by digging among its ruins; in like manner the story of any Ontario farm is told by the houses that have been built upon it.

The first dwelling on the Marshall farm was a small log shanty built in the spring of 1837; and when I arrived on the place it was doing service as a pig pen. Its walls were built of cedar logs small enough for one man to hold them into place.

At the corners they were neatly notched. The spaces between them were chinked with moss and the roof of the cabin was covered with slabs of tamarack bark. An axe blade was the only iron used about its original construction.

William Marshall's father had been an early settler among the Lutherans around Cashel in Markham Township. The family was a large one; and on rising seventeen years, the lad, Willie, went out to work as a hired man. By the spring of 1837, he had laid aside his halloo, cur-rency; and with part of his savings he bought a 200-acre homestead of his own in the unbroken wilderness among the hills of Mono. He was attracted to the place by the beech, oak and hard maple, and the floating boulders of limestone, which, to his mind, gave strength to his soil.

Early in May of that year, he got a lift for himself and his baggage as far as Campbell's Cross. At that point young Marshall shouldered his axe and a sack of grub, and fared on foot up-country along a blazed trail to conquer his kingdom. The little cabin went up in short order. The rest of his scanty supplies were then packed in; and the lad set to work felling timber in order to make land.

His working equipment consisted of two axes, a whetstone, and a musket. Every week he went a tidy step to a neighbor's for his batch of bread. His other provisions were molasses, sawdust and speckled trout; that fry deliciously, you know in a pan over a slow fire. The sweetest meat man ever ate are these little Molly Collins.

By the middle of August, Marshall had chopped seven acres of heavy hardwood timber; and the field he made stands to this day as evidence of his feat. A rail fence went around the field the next spring; and we have been flinging field stones along its fence lines for so many years that no one has since had courage to attempt to alter the boundaries of the field. It was not, however, a case of felling one tree after another. The axeman started at one side of the clearing he was making, and, chopping into the standing trees to weaken them, prepared for a great windfall to start at the other side and lay the trunks in windrows convenient for the burning. It was a job for an expert; but there was an expert on the job.

After Marshall had patiently chopped his way across the field in this fashion, neighbors came over to lend him a hand in starting the falling. The roar was deafening as the trees toppled one another over in their swaying fall.

Louder sounds the axe, redoubting stroke on stroke. On all sides round, the forest and huris his caks. Headlong, great echoing groan the thickets brown. Then rustling, crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

packed in; and the lad set to work felling timber in order to make land. His working equipment consisted of two axes, a whetstone, and a musket. Every week he went a tidy step to a neighbor's for his batch of bread. His other provisions were molasses, sawdust and speckled trout; that fry deliciously, you know in a pan over a slow fire. The sweetest meat man ever ate are these little Molly Collins.

By the middle of August, Marshall had chopped seven acres of heavy hardwood timber; and the field he made stands to this day as evidence of his feat. A rail fence went around the field the next spring; and we have been flinging field stones along its fence lines for so many years that no one has since had courage to attempt to alter the boundaries of the field. It was not, however, a case of felling one tree after another. The axeman started at one side of the clearing he was making, and, chopping into the standing trees to weaken them, prepared for a great windfall to start at the other side and lay the trunks in windrows convenient for the burning. It was a job for an expert; but there was an expert on the job.

After Marshall had patiently chopped his way across the field in this fashion, neighbors came over to lend him a hand in starting the falling. The roar was deafening as the trees toppled one another over in their swaying fall.

Louder sounds the axe, redoubting stroke on stroke. On all sides round, the forest and huris his caks. Headlong, great echoing groan the thickets brown. Then rustling, crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

On the 7th of December he was at the burning of Montgomery's tavern. What he actually went down to do at that scene in the Canadian Rebellion of '37 has always remained shrouded in a pious mystery. I suspect he was a party of farm boys who marched down Yonge Street to give Sir Francis Bond Head and his government a taste of their muskets and croppy picks. On nearing the scene of action, they found the rebels' affairs in such a plight that, to get neatly on the scrap, he was a crackling, crashing, thunder down.

That season William Marshall chopped and prepared logs for a stable and a house. The frosts of November found him back on his father's farm at Cashel for the winter.

THE CHINOOK ADVANCE

Published by Mrs. M. C. Nicholson every Thursday afternoon from The Advance Building, Main Street, Chinook, Alberta, and entered in the postoffice as second class mail matter.

The subscription rates to the advance are $1.50 per annum in Canada and $2.00 outside of Canada.

The transient advertising rates in the advance are—display, 40¢ per inch for first week and 30¢ for each succeeding week, providing no change is made. For heavy copy position an extra charge is made for first week. Reading notices, 10¢ per count line. Legal advertising, 15¢ per count line for first week and 10¢ for each succeeding week. Cards of thanks, $1.00.

Advertisements under this heading are charged at the rate of 50¢ for 25 words or less per week, with 10¢ for each additional 5 words. Three weeks for the price of two.

All letters addressed to the editor for insertion in The Advance, must be signed to show bona fides of the writer. Publication in all cases is subject to the judgment of the Publisher. We do not necessarily coincide with views expressed.

CHINOOK MARKET PRICES

WHEAT

1 Northern	1.23 1/2
2 Northern	1.21
3 Northern	1.13

OATS

2 C. W.	45
Ex. 1 Feed	43

CHINOOK UNITED CHURCH

Sunday May 2nd

Sunday School 10.30 a. m.

Come and bring your friends in worship.

Rev. J. W. Smiley
Pastor

Motor Truck Draying

Prompt Service.

Earl Robinson, Chinook

Printing "News"

is our

Business

Send

Yours In

CLASSIFIED ADS.

Chinook Beauty Shoppe

Marcel	50 cts
Reset	25 cts
Finger wave	25 cts
" [dried]	35 cts
Shampoo	25 cts

Mrs. W. Gallagher Prop.

Restaurant Building in the town of Chinook.

Apply to
The Chinook Advance

FOR SALE

Spring Rye, Grade 2 C. W.
Cleaned. Price $1.00 per bus

J. H. Hiltbrand

Reist, Alta.

N W 1-4 Sec. 12 Twp. 32
R 10-W 4th.

Here and There

Famous officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Sir John A. Macdonald, Prime Minister of Canada, arrived at Revelstoke recently and held a series of historic meetings. Among them were Donald A. Smith, George Stephen, James J. Hill, Van Horne and Sir Alexander Meek. Associated for the past half century with the construction of Canada's first transcontinental railway. The party actually comprised a group of film players portraying the historic characters in the tense board-room sequence of "The Great Barrier," Gaumont British picture depicting the strenuous railway construction days fifty years ago.

Says Gene Sarazen, one time world's champion golfer, visiting of the Banff Springs Hotel, Banff, at the famous resort in the Rockies—"That course of Banff is everything you said. Mrs. Helen Hicks and I played it against two guests at the hotel and we were beaten. With a huge gallery it may seem funny to hear we simply couldn't keep our minds on the game—the scenery was simply too much."

The first 1937 world cruise to set out from New York will be the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain which will call January 9 for a voyage of 125 days, covering 30,000 miles and visiting 20 ports in 22 different countries. Among these countries are Palestine, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Malaya Archipelago, the Philippines, China, Japan, Hawaii and back to New York via California, the Panama Canal and Havana.

Canada's first complete semi-streamlined air-conditioned train, built for the Canadian Pacific Railway, now in operation with four units in different parts of the Dominion, has been placed on inspection at a number of points across the country and has aroused high praise and enthusiasm on the part of the hundreds of thousands of Canadians who have seen it. In Montreal alone 60,000 spectators went through it in the four days it was on inspection at the Windsor station and the same interest was displayed everywhere else. These units will be in operation between Toronto and Detroit, Montreal and Quebec, and Edmonton and Calgary.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other delegates to the League of Nations Conference at Geneva sailed from Quebec in September in the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain. Accompanying the Premier was Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate and Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor.

Captain George Good, new skipper of the Empress of Russia, made his first trip as master of the vessel early in September. It is his first command of a Pacific Empress, though he has served the fleet in all official capacities from fourth officer to ship-captain during the past 22 years.

Last of three motor parties visiting Canada this year, 15 British automobiles arrived recently at Quebec on the Empress of Britain. The motorcade under the command of Graham Lyons, drove from Quebec to Montreal and will visit Ottawa, Toronto, London, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington and New York.

Sport Fishermen Ready for Season

Canadian fishermen, bored all winter after telling each other that they would be able to make a fresh start, Spring brings the opening of fishing seasons throughout Canada, and indications from inquiries from sportsmen and information from guides pouring into the offices of A. O. Seymour, general tourist agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, are that game fish are going to have a hard time of it.

More people are planning early vacations to take advantage of the fishing while it is at its best. Reports from Canadian Pacific Railway hotels in the Maritimes and Quebec, the Devil's Gap and French River, Bangor, Camps in Ontario, and Bangor, Camps and hotels in the Canadian Rockies, as well as favored fishing centres on Canadian Pacific lines indicate that sportsmen are on the move again. The number of Canadians travelling within Canada and of Americans visiting this country especially for fishing will run into many thousands. In a country the size of Canada, and with its variety of fish and conditions, opening seasons vary widely in the different provinces, a fact shown in fishing booklets obtainable from all Canadian Pacific Railway agents.

Keep In Mind The Great Event Of The Coronation Of King George VI.
God Bless The King

Interesting W. I. Meeting Held

Chinook Women's Institute had a very interesting meeting on Wednesday, May 5th in the United Church, the occasion being the entertainment of the grand mothers of the town and district. About 20 guests were present. After the usual business meeting a short program of songs and recitations was presented by the children. Mrs. Len Cooley gave a very fine monologue and two ladies—Mrs. R. Whelan and Mrs. Mortimer rendered two playlets, which were very well presented and much enjoyed. Mrs. Whelan was dressed in male attire, and acted the irate husband to perfection.

At lunch, members and guests sat at one long table nicely decorated with Coronation favors, and at each place was a pretty hand painted place card, the work of Miss Madeline Otto.

The weather still keep windy and dry and rain would be welcome, though it is not so badly needed yet.

Substitute Flour Annoys Germans

BERLIN, April 29 (C. P. Havas)—Substitute flour used in Germany to overcome the grain shortage has been the subject of complaints throughout the country, the official news paper Korrespondenz said today.

The Nazi party organ insisted, however, that although the substitute was slightly darker in color and not as tasty as real flour, its nourishing qualities more than made up for its shortcomings. The paper described three kinds of flour available in the Reich. The first—Type 502—is high quality flour, which must be used sparingly.

Type 8121, the second kind recommended by the news paper for general use. It added that potato starch and corn starch had been added to this type of flour to make it whiter.

The third kind of flour—Type 1050—has provoked some concern, "but is better than its reputation," the paper said.

CLARENCE DARROW AND INTEREST (cps)

"Violence never accomplishes much. If men substitute reason and understanding for violence—". Clarence Darrow, the great legal mind and philosopher, was talking about sit down strikes when he spoke these words in Chicago last month.

But on careful analysis, you find a close resemblance in principle between the method Alberta adopted to deal with the big problem of high interest rates, and that employed by the sit down strikers. Both refuse to arbitrate, discuss the question from both sides, and then work out a mutual agreement. Both boldly plunge, merely hoping for results and forgetting the consequences. But leave the sit down strikers for now.

Saskatchewan chose the intelligent method of dealing with the interest problem. The government, representing the people, sat down across the table with mortgage companies, representing the people who invested their money in farm lands in the West—many of them farmers in Eastern Canada and their money their entire life savings—-- and an agreement satisfactory to both sides was worked out last fall.

Net Results: Alberta—while interest is not being paid in fact, the government has so far failed to find a legal method of reducing it. The position of the man who contracted to pay say eight per cent in this province today as uncertain as the future of the provincial government itself.

Saskatchewan—all mortgage interest rates of the companies have been reduced down to six per cent for the

Let us Supply You
With Your

Printing
Requirements

The Chinook Advance

just six months, as compared with former rates of upward of seven per cent.

In other words, Saskatchewan has obtained RESULTS. That is the important consideration—Alberta has not.